

Dear Jason,

We really appreciate everything NPC and Jason has done for my daughter and now my son.

As everyone will find out sooner or later getting into college as well as the finances and paperwork is overwhelming. I met Jason and heard what he had to say. Money was very tight and after consulting with a couple other companies I felt the most confident with Jason.

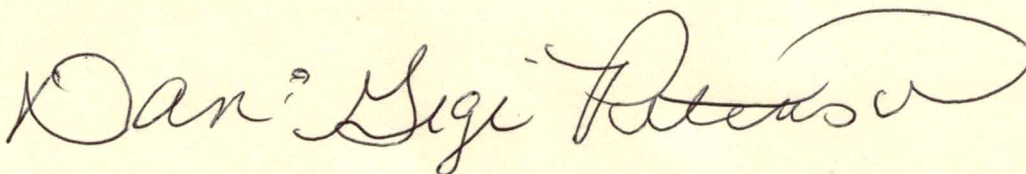

I deal with a lot of people in my business. When it comes to something as important as your child with only one opportunity to do it right, you need to analyze who to trust and in whose hands to put your most important asset. Jason came across organized, knowledgeable and for me, most of all confident that he could put together a package that was perfect for Karly.

The process on our side was simple. We filled in a couple of forms and forwarded our taxes and that was it. We then could sit back and stress in peace. We were shocked in April when we started receiving acceptances with the large financial aid packages. After long deliberations on which school was the best choice, my daughter chose LMU, Loyola Maramount University. She is now in her second year and has received $52,485 in financial aid with 30,008 in grants of which we don't have to pay back. In the four years we would have saved 120,032. But the process doesn't stop there. Each year the process has to be repeated and repeated and repeated and each year things change. New grants and scholarships arise and NCP has been on top of it.

We are now entering our second beginning with our son Rocky. Rocky is an athlete and has the tendency to procrastinate every now and then. We were a little nervous but with the help of Jason and NCP he did it. The same process took place from finding the right schools for Rocky to getting all the applications and essays in and corrected. We are now waiting to hear the results with fingers crossed.

To anyone who has a child moving into this next stage of life and feel that college is important, I cannot tell you how happy we are with Jason and NCP. I know some people feel they are great with forms and very organized in life (I bow to you because we are not) but this is different. There are specific ways these forms have to be filled out. If you make a mistake or don't understand what numbers are needed where on the forms, you will miss out and you only have one chance to submit.

Thanks again to all at NCP.
