

Making College Affordable

October 23, 2008

I first learned about National College Planners from my local newspaper. It advertised a free introductory seminar for parents with up coming pre college students. My daughter was a senior in high school and we knew she would be going to college after she graduated. Since my wife and I had never gone through the procedure of applying for a University, we felt it might be beneficial to seek help when applying for colleges and seeking any financial aid.

We attended the seminar and liked the presentation given by Jason. We then signed up for the personal presentation on how the program would work for us. After Jason answered all our questions, we signed up with National College Planners.

From there Jason took all the information he needed to research what kind of program would benefit our financial situation. National College Planners helped my daughter fill out the necessary paper work needed to apply to several colleges she wanted to attend.

My daughter is now attending Sacramento State College. Jason still calls to make sure things are going well and will be there next year when we need to re-apply for the new school year. We joined National College Planners to help my daughter with the paper work necessary to apply for the colleges she wanted to attend and to obtain the most financial aid available to us.

I am very pleased with the service and result I have received from joining Jason and National College Planners.

Sincerely Yours,

Steve and Tina Platte
